Dear colleagues,

As you work through the closing weeks of this very busy month, I wanted to share some information to help you to support your students.

I also wanted to share the bittersweet news that I will be leaving the Coalition at the end of November to pursue a new opportunity with the Education Finance Institute. It has been an incredible honor to serve as the organization’s inaugural executive director and to witness the Coalition become an important force for improving equitable access to higher education.

Most sincerely,

Annie Reznik
Executive Director, Coalition for College
